

Wordless Picture Books

An excellent open-ended activity to promote critical thinking skills!

- Have students use sticky notes to tell the story in their own words.
- Partner /Share and have the students create a summative sentence to go with each page. (This could be done by book or page)
- Complete a graphic organizer having students identify characters, settings, and events.
- Have students write and perform scripts using puppets, dioramas, and or/sound effects in order to integrate art and/or music.
- Have students make their own wordless storybook.
- Summarize the story in 25 words or less.
- Using the picture book “Zoom” , cut out the pages and see of the group can sequence the pages.
- Students construct their own wordless picture book by using magazine pictures.
